

International Nurse

Their journey working for KMPT!

Being one of the leading healthcare systems worldwide, NHS has become my ever-wanted workplace where I can gain advanced skills and knowledge in contemporary nursing. I was also driven to work in the UK because of diverse and dynamic work atmosphere where equal opportunities for career move-up is welcome. It fascinated me to realise that I will be joining world-class, multicultural and highly competent healthcare professionals, thus, it also made me feel extremely proud. In addition, I have always wanting to provide a better life for my family, and UK is the right place where we can live and raise our children safely and comfortably.

I joined KMPT as part of the first cohort of International Qualified-Recruit Nurse in October 2021. We were 9 nurses when we arrived in the UK.

In October 2021, I initially started as a Band 4 in Older Adult Care Group and after passing my OSCE and getting my NMC-PIN in January 2022, I started working as a qualified Band 5 Nurse immediately. After some time, I got certified as Electroconvulsive Therapy (ECT) Nurse, thus I also joined ECT Suite team. In August 2022 (6 months after getting PIN), I got the chance to have a new post in Community Recovery Group and became a Band 6 as Liaison Psychiatry Practitioner.

KMPT is giving us the necessary support and guidance in order to adjust and assume new roles in a new workplace. I like the warm welcome we are getting that it feels like I never left my home as I found a new family here in KMPT. The people are just simply amazing and accommodating, and it makes me smile that I am in good hands with KMPT. From the highly engaging and competent trainers to various venues and platforms of learnings, I would say that I have been getting support and needed assistance in my transitions here at KMPT.

Recruitment process was totally a breeze. KMPT made it very smooth and worry-free. They gave me updates and feedback when I have questions and guided me well on how and where to start my UK journey. In terms of training, I would say that it was indeed comprehensive and exceptionally exceeded my expectations. If you want to feel valued and be a part of delivering brilliant care through brilliant people, then KMPT is the best place to showcase your competence and skills in nursing.
